Eleanor Winthrop is a young American woman who dreams of becoming a Broadway star. But when war breaks out, she puts her dreams on hold to volunteer as a nurse in England. There, she meets Captain Jack Armstrong, a dashing British pilot who is fighting for his country and his life.

Eleanor returns to America and tries to forget the man she loved. But she can't escape her memories of Jack, and she vows to find him, no matter what.

Years later, Eleanor travels to England to search for Jack. She follows every lead, but she can't find him. Just when she's about to give up hope, she receives a letter that changes everything.

The letter is from Jack. He survived the war, but he was badly injured and lost his memory. He has been living in a small village in England, unaware of his past.
